Smith Currie, got defeated by 63 votes in a contest for the Portage Mayoralty.

Calvin Setter, a brother of ex-Sheriff Setter was sent to goal at the Portage the other day for cattle stealing.

The Manitoba Legislature will be called together for the dispatch of business on January 11th. It is expected that the session will be short.

Mr. H. Jones, principal of the Reston School, has been engaged as principal of the Birtle school for 1894. Mr. Jones has the reputation of being a first class teacher.

S. J. Thompson, Provincial Veterinary Inspector, has written a letter to Mr.
Daly in which he states that not a case of pleuro pneumonia exists in Manitoba or has existed during the three years that he has been in office.

That familiar tourist, the grip, has this week appeared in Bradstreet and was soon recognized by old friends, he not being at all backward in renewing their acquaintance, much to their sorrow, for a great many of them are now in bed with that peculiar want-to-die feeling.

Mr. Lyons, a well known Englishman, of Cunningham Manor, whilst walking from his house to a neighbors lot his way and after walking for 24 hours he arrived at Mr. Dornmouth's house in a very critical condition. Dr. Ailingham was at once sent for and had him removed to Bradstreet and from thence to Winnipeg.

The train service on the M. & N. W.
Ry. west of Binscarth, being weekly only, a mail service by a stage between Binscarth and Yorkton has been authorized. This will give the towns along the route two mails per week. The new service, when in operation, will leave Binscarth Wednesday returning the following day.

H. B. Mitchell, the well known landholder of Millwood, who is this winter making a big cut of logs north of Lake Winnipeg, had a narrow escape on the lake last week. Accompanied by an Indian, he was driving across the lake, when his horses suddenly disappeared from sight in a hole in the ice. Mr.
Mitchell lost both his horses, but considered himself lucky in that he and his guide escaped.

Deer hunters are becoming desperate.
Last week we chronicled the attempt of a sport upon the life of a horse belonging to J. V. Graham. This week it is our painful duty to record the untimely end of an unfortunate heifer belonging to Mr. E. Hagar. The remarkable thing about the matter is that the hunter put six well directed shots into the body of the heifer, before he discovered his mistake, and before the inefficient animal had time to regenerate. Carman Standard.

A meeting of the directors of the Winnipeg hospital, which was held at the hospital, Monday afternoon. Some discussion arose as to the exaggerated and distorted rumors which have been going around regarding the death of a private patient who escaped from his room while in a fit of delirium by passing a window and jumping out, and who was out of the building some time before being found by the attendants. The board of directors adopted a resolution asking the Provincial Government to order a full investigation at as early a date as possible.

The election for mayor, councillors and school trustees, on Tuesday, resulted in Mr. Hunt being elected by a majority of 38 votes. J. M. Nelson for the mayoralty.
John H. Lyons and Duncan Peterson were elected councillors and Noble Dickie and Thomas Huckle school trustees. Great interest was taken in the election, 180 votes being recorded, the largest number ever polled in a municipal contest in Brandon. The voters took great interest in the election, everyone entitled to a vote coming to mark their ballots for the different candidates who they thought best qualified for the position they were aspiring to.

Mr. Clifford called a meeting of his customers and informed them that he was going to draw out of the general store business and devote his time to the mill and other business, so there is now the grandest opening Austin has ever offered for a general merchant.

A large quantity of pork is being shipped from here. R. Morris shipped the largest consignment to Brandon last week. Chas. Beggs has long factoring establishment in operation and has over 100 pigs undergoing the fattening process.

McGregor.

Our streets are quite lively these days, quite a lot of what is being marketed daily and merchants report business generally good. We have no need to go to Portage la Prairie or elsewhere to get our shares as we have been competing in the general store business with J. B.
Henderson in the east end and W. Burton in the west end with red and blue flags respectively vying each other which can give the most sugar for the $.

R. J. Fleming is building a large skating rink on corner of Railway Avenue and Christian Street, where the youth of the town and all lovers of the gliding sport may fill in their spare time during the rest of the winter. Bob thinks he will have it in good shape in a few days with skates for hire and padding for learners.

The orchestra is being reconstituted. It will form part of the programme at the grand concert to be given early in January under the auspices of the English church. Some of Winnipeg's professional talent will also be here. We may look for a something good from such a source.

Farmers' Institute.

Vice President, T. M. Roddick, in the chair.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

Mr. Smith reported for committee of Libraries that a list of books had been made out. After some discussion it was moved by R. E. A. Leech, seconded by Fred. Smith—that the Library question be laid on the table. Carried.

Leach—Wilson—That we proceed to elect a president at next meeting. Carried.

Mr. Postlethwait reported re work of committee on freight rates, and read a letter from W. Whyte, Supt. C.P.R., also a draft of a letter to be sent to Mr.
Whyte giving further particulars as requested in his letter.

Report on same matter from Mr. C. S.
Doran who read a lengthy letter re the C.P.R. and the settlement of Manitoba by farmers.

Postlethwait—Doran—That the letter drafted be forwarded to Supt. Whyte.
Carried.

Mr. Fred Smith, then read an excellent paper on the subject, "Has wheat growing been profitable," which was as follows:

HAS WHEAT GROWING BEEN PROFITABLE.

This is one of the questions that can be truthfully answered both yes and no, the affirmative answer is correct if we look back over the 12 years past and consider the average, quality, yield and price obtained by the successful or deserving farmer of this district, but if you consider the price and yield for the past two years and the answer is negative no matter how deserving he may have been, that is to say judgement caution, experience and hard work did not make wheat growing profitable by the average farmer.

When we use the word profit we do not give it the meaning that the railroad corporation do when they are making allowance for big dividends on watered stock and enormous salaries for their Presidents.

The North West Farmer 9 months since tried to ascertain the profit in growing wheat by getting Mr. E. A. Leech and that did not bring out anything definite as there was a difference of over $3.00 per acre among those who took part in the discussion.

Neither do we expect a profit in growing wheat sufficient to make any of us millionaires for such a thing was never known, but we have a right to call profit all we obtain over and above our cost of seed, manure and team, actual profit, board included, actual expenses and legal interest on investment.

But while we are doubting and differing about what is a profit in growing wheat, we can see positive profit that some farmers have made and that some would have made had they bought farms, built comfortable and permanent farm buildings and even some have made sufficient to retire into our cities, at the same time many have been obliged to give up the struggle trying to grow wheat and profit has been the loss of all their seed, manure and team, and the loss of all their crops and chattels and many of their livestock. Therefore we must conclude that this important question may be answered yes and no.

This question is important because it has a bearing on the future and in order to make this subject of some use we will justified in giving the wheat grower a list of 12 years cannot be lived over again.
Get this may be very useful to us by making use of the experience dearly bought in many instances. For myself I think it no wonder that many have failed to grow wheat at a profit in the last few years. Some have bought farms, built comfortable and permanent farm buildings
and even some have made sufficient to
many have been obliged to give up the

THE PROTEST.

The drift of Criticism encouraged by the crookedness of the Grit press of this country is simply nauseating. Our readers will remember a petition was entered against the return of Mr. Adams as member for this city. Mr. Adams objects to the particulars of the petition, on the ground that the petitioners were not bona fide electors. He well knew the names of the petitioners appeared on the list of voters' roll, and doubtless, he and his, endeavored to get the petitioners to vote for him. Had they done this, no objection to their qualification to vote would have been taken at the polling booth; but now that they are petitioners against Mr. Adams, their qualification is called into question by the gentlemen who are so solicitous to see pure and honest elections. Honesty of purpose, would never object to the petition, but on the other hand would allow every facility for coming at the merits of the election as speedily as possible—would in effect say we are convinced the contest was free from anything of a corrupting character, and if you have anything to the contrary produce it at once. But no, honesty as understood by the Grits is to raise every side issue possible to prevent the methods made use of to capture the votes, from coming before the public. They affirm from the house tops their hands are clean and their methods are honest, but they deem it of first importance that the public should be diverted from looking squarely at either. The result of this quibble prevents the protest from being tried until Mr. Adams sits a session in the House, and the Winnipeg Tribune and prints of that ilk shout "Ho, Ho!" Politics in Canada have got into a rat disreputable enough to utterly disgust any man who has got the slightest regard for consistency of any shade or color.

PHARISAICAL POLITICIANS.

There was a Grit banquet at Emerson the other evening and the Winnipeg Tribune credits Mr. Sifton with making a happy speech at it. Yes, Mr. Sifton always feels especially happy when he is deceiving and hood-winking the electors for his own personal gain. In the last general election he was especially happy when he and his were leading the electors to believe that if his government were sustained they would give them total prohibition; and in his speech the other night he was even more happy when covering up the fraud perpetrated on the country through that hotel venture at Chicago. At the meeting he prated away about tariff reform, a subject he has no more to do with than any other elector in the country, simply because by dwelling on it he thought he could prejudice a vote or two against the Federal Government. His colleague Mr. Greenway, however, is reported as having sold the Chicago Hotel and an explanation of the consequent sacrifice of Manitoba's country, of this he has full knowledge, while of the probable tariff reform he has absolutely no information, and with which he has no more to do than the plumes, elector breaking stones on the street. The idea of the bland Mr. Sifton, however, is to play on the hill top like the Pharisee, and thank God he is not like other people. Sifton, this won't do—the people want you to explain your own mistakes and those of your colleagues leaving irrelevant matter for other opportunities.

DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

Numerous forced sales of chattels have taken place in the country the past few months in which the proceeds did not cover the costs of litigation, thereby netting nothing for either debtor or creditor, and when some of the country parties demand legislation to prevent this whole sale destruction of effects, the leading Grit prints, notably the Free Press, say it is a very hard matter to interfere between debtor and creditor. Possibly so, but it all depends on who is the debtor and who the creditor. Some years ago Mr. Arthur Burrows, of Winnipeg, was about to bring a suit against the Greenway government for cancelling a contract he had with the government for printing, and for which Mr. Martin passed an act designed to prevent the judges from sitting on the case. You see Greenway & Co. were the debtors then, and Mr. Burrows, a Tory man, whom no vote could be expected, was the creditor. To pass an act saving poor farmers from destruction now at the hands of the bailiffs would jeopardize some votes held by Grit creditors, and, of course, this will not do. The circumstances peremptorily call for such an act as the farmers are clamoring for, to save the country, and if the Greenway government do not pass it, they should be held responsible for the consequences by the country.

We do not favor any measure that will enable any debtor to escape liabilities; but we do favor one that will leave all debtors the means in their hands of eventually meeting them. If such an act compelled creditors on seizing effects to allow debtors a fair value for them so as to meet liabilities in this way well and good, and if not the effects should be preserved in some way to the debtor until they would bring reasonable value, and thus relieve both parties to the transaction.

In the zeal to do missionary work for their party, Grit papers often overdo. The Brandon Sun is one of these. In a late issue it quoted prices of groceries in the States and prices in Canada—presumably those of Brandon of which it ought to have some knowledge. In reply to this the Carberry Express says the Brandon people can save money by purchasing their groceries in Carberry—showing, of course, the Sun's Canadian prices are too high, and therefore dishonest.

Mr. Clay's paper at Rapid City is "piling" into lawyers and the expense of legislation in the province, and strange to say it supported in the election every lawyer who is now a representative of the house. That is consistency surely denounce the end, but justify the means that accomplish it. Shout down with sin, but rise to Satan.

My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I did so. I took it for a week, and now I am feeling excellent. I thank God, and

A Train Load of Coal.

Eight cars of good Canadian coal arrived last Friday for Messrs. Hanbury & McNea, over the C.P.R. from the Anthracite mines at Baile, which means 16 tons. There appears to be a great demand for this coal at present and if it continues to give the same satisfaction during the balance of the winter, as it has for the past two months, it will have for the coal out of the market. It has all the lasting qualities of the American hard coal, it is much more easily controlled and gives out a stronger and quicker heat. It works well in furnaces that heats by hot water circulation, we mention just a few of those that are using it in their hot water system. Senator Kirchheffer, A. E. Philip, J. A. Christie, the city hall and general Hospital, among many others, and for hot air furnaces, Bunting and cook stoves, it is simply perfect. When it is considered that the price of this coal is only from $7.00 to $8.25 per ton, delivered to any part of the city, it goes a long way towards reducing our expense this winter when money is so scarce.

TESTIMONIAL.

Brandon, Nov. 21st, 1892.

Messrs. Hanbury & McNea, Brandon.

Gentlemen:—Like many others, I thought the Anthracite coal you were handling would not burn well in a self feeding stove and did not care to purchase more than half a ton for trial. I find you could not only burn it as well as the Pennsylvania hard coal but can be more easily regulated, as no matter how low you let your fire down by closing up the draughts in the stove you can easily revive again by opening them and arrange heat to suit the weather. Your coal not only gives entire satisfaction in heating but saves me at least $3.00 a month, as it is cheaper and can be used to last longer in a self feeding stove. The one I use is the largest size Anthracite.

Yours Truly,

T. D. Macfarland.
